Last Tuesday, September 4, DCV Registros organized an event with clients with the purpose of delving into Corporate Governance issues as well as the new law on public companies which will soon come into effect. The exhibition was handled by of Alberto Etchegaray, Corporate Governance Director at Avendaño & Merino Abogados law firm, who has focused his professional practice in the areas of corporate governance, securities market, stock corporations, and regulatory matters.

Fernando Yáñez, DCV's General Manager, thanked the group of clients in attendance that have trusted DCV Registros and emphasized DCV's ongoing efforts to contribute to the understanding of the capital market, which became the driving force for the organization of this event.

In turn, Claudio Garín, Service Manager at DCV Registros put emphasis on the great growth the company has experienced this year in respect to new clients, stock exchange new issues and the incorporation of ETF Mutual Fund depositors' registries, as a new line of business, as well as the high satisfaction ratings obtained in the recent annual customer satisfaction survey.

For clients, this event was an important opportunity to clarify questions and share concerns with other companies facing the same regulation, clarify issues related to the laws and circulars that are continuously being issued, and which are often difficult to understand.

Andrés Marín, representative of Viña San Pedro Tarapacá, indicated that 'it is very important to us, as customers, to be updated, especially in relation to topics in which there are relevant changes. This is a major change that involves many practices that were occurring in open and closed stock companies, but are now included in the regulation and it is important to be aware of these changes'.

The event was attended by various company representatives who highlighted the benefits of participating in these gatherings as an opportunity to interact, clarify and update knowledge.

Moreover, Carmen Poblete, representative of Enersis, said 'all events organized by DCV, contribute to helping to consolidate the knowledge one has, which is beneficial for everyone. This is a great contribution since if a discussion or conversation is carried out, the laws and the circulars are much more understandable and situations may be addressed with better knowledge of the various topics'.
